WORLD MUSIC AFRICAN REGGAE ROOTS ROCK

PROFILE

Black Prophet is a proud African Reggae artist that speaks through his music. His divine inspirations represent a new generation of timeless traditional African Reggae Roots Rock music with a message that touches your inner being. Born and raised in Ghana, the start of BLACK PROPHET's blessings and inspirations are steeped in mysticism which comes from his love of nature, his clean living herbal and vegan diet and his love for the Almighty.

From an early age Black Prophet knew that his message to the world was through his music. Coming from a humble beginning, his life experiences and vision were the catalyst for many of his lyrical song contents.

His first performance at the age of seven, solidified his destiny to write and perform. At fifteen his natural talent began to shine and he joined the Ghanaian Reggae band 'Vibration Boys' as the lead vocalist. They later became the 'Vibration Kings'. He continued to make the best of his talents by combining his mastery of traditional African beats alongside his love of Reggae Roots Rock and he never seized to utilise the opportunities that he had been blessed with. He continuously promotes and represents his beloved home country of Ghana at every given chance.

PROFILE

Black Prophet's message gives every listener something that touches you deep within and his conscious vibe and authentic style crosses over every language barrier.

In February 1998, Black Prophet released his first debut solo album "No Pain No Gain", an infusion of Reggae and African beats.

In 2003, Black Prophet made his name known as a singer and songwriter. Embarking on his first tour in The Netherlands, along with his live band, the energetic show brought joy and optimism to audiences across various festivals in Belgium and Sweden.

Black Prophet has five studio albums and several hit songs to his credit and as his popularity grew he was invited to perform at a plethora of live shows and festivals.

Black Prophet has also worked with world-renowned artists and had several award nominations for his timeless contributions to the reggae space in Ghana, including a consideration for nomination for best Reggae Album at the 2017 Grammy Awards.

To date Black Prophet has never been recognised for his relentless struggle to promote Ghana his place of birth and Reggae Roots Rock music, his love for both cannot be separated.

Even so, he continues to bless the world with his music, divine inspiration and positivity.

Ghanaian Reggae artiste, Black Prophet

Black Prophet, the global reggae artist from Ghana, has announced the release of his latest album, 'From Osu'.

The album features 14 new tracks that showcase Black Prophet's unique blend of reggae and African rhythms.

'From Osu' is a tribute to Black Prophet's hometown, a neighborhood in Accra, Ghana, known for its vibrant music scene. The album is a celebration of African culture and talks about the beautiful traditions of Ghana.

Black Prophet's music is known for its socially conscious themes, and 'From Osu' is no exception. The album touches on social issues while also celebrating African unity and resilience.

"I wanted to create an album that reflects the spirit of Osu and the struggles that we face as Africans but at the same time, I wanted to highlight the beauty and resilience of our people and our culture", Black Prophet said.

'From Osu' is a sensational album and is already receiving critical acclaim from music critics and fans alike.
